FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA

CORNEL WEST AND MELINA
ABDULLAH, GERALDINE
TUNSTALLE, KATHERINE HOPKINS-
BOT, AND CHARLES HIER,

Plaintiffs,

v.

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF
STATE AND AL SCHMIDT, IN HIS CAPACITY AS SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH,

Defendants.

No. _____

(filed electronically)

VERIFIED COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

Plaintiffs Cornel West and Melina Abdullah (Candidates), Geraldine Tunstalle, Katherine Hopkins-Bot, and Charles Hier (Voters) (together, Plaintiffs), by and through their undersigned counsel, bring this Complaint against Defendants, the Pennsylvania Department of State (Department) and Al Schmidt, in his capacity as Secretary of the Commonwealth (Secretary), and in support thereof aver as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The primary values protected by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution—“a profound national commitment to the principle that debate on public issues should be uninhibited, robust, and wide-open,” —are “served when election campaigns are not monopolized by existing political parties.” Anderson v.

Celebrezze, 460 U.S. 780, 794 (1983) (quoting New York Times Co. v. Sullivan, 376 U.S. 254, 270 (1964)).

2. Accordingly, minor political parties, known in Pennsylvania as political bodies, are crucial to advancing diversity of thought and ensuring competition in the marketplace of ideas. See id.

3. When states impose severe burdens on political bodies to restrict access to the ballot without any state interest to support that burden, a constitutional violation occurs under the First and Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

4. In the context of presidential elections, such burdens “implicate a uniquely important national interest,” because state-imposed restrictions have “an impact beyond [the state’s] own borders.” Id. at 794–95.

5. This case presents exactly that concern because Defendants impose an interpretation of the Pennsylvania Election Code (Election Code) that unfairly burdens and discriminates against political bodies, their candidates, and supporters, without any state interest in doing so.

6. Candidates West and Abdullah are current Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates of the Justice for All political body who seek access to the ballot in Pennsylvania. Voters signed Candidates’ Nomination Papers (the West/Abullah Nomination Papers) to advance that goal.

7. Candidates timely submitted the West/Abdullah Nomination Papers. Still, Defendants refused to accept them, citing their interpretation that Section 951 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 2911, requires each one of Candidates' presidential electors to submit candidate affidavits.

8. Defendants' interpretation of Section 951 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. § 2911, discriminates against Candidates, Voters, and political bodies as a whole, treating them differently from the two major political parties.

9. Because Defendants' interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 does not advance any state interest, as evidenced by the lack of statutory support for this interpretation, it unconstitutionally infringes on Plaintiffs' First and Fourteenth Amendment rights.

10. Accordingly, Plaintiffs ask this Court to declare Defendants' interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 unconstitutional under the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution and preliminarily and permanently enjoin Defendants' from relying on and enforcing that interpretation.

II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

11. Because this action alleges a violation of the United States Constitution, it raises a federal question. So, under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, this Court has jurisdiction over this action.

12. Further, declaratory relief is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 & 2202.

13. Venue is proper in the Western District of Pennsylvania under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) because a substantial portion of the events or omissions giving rise to the present claim occurred in the district, as Voters are all registered voters who signed the West/Abullah Nomination Papers. Two the Voters signed the West/Abdullah Nomination Papers in this district.

III. PARTIES

14. Plaintiff Cornel West is a United States citizen and resident of Orange County, California. West is Justice for All's candidate for President of the United States.

15. Plaintiff Melina Abdullah is a United States citizen and a resident of Los Angeles County, California. Abdullah is Justice for All's candidate for Vice-President of the United States.

16. Plaintiff Geraldine Tunstalle is a registered Pennsylvania voter who signed the West/Abullah Nomination Papers in the Western District of Pennsylvania and intends to vote in the November 2024 General Election.

17. Plaintiff Katherine Hopkins-Bot is a registered Pennsylvania voter who signed the West/Abullah Nomination Papers and intends to vote in the November 2024 General Election.

18. Plaintiff Charles Hier, is a registered Pennsylvania voter who signed the West/Abullah Nomination Papers in the Western District of Pennsylvania and intends to vote in the November 2024 General Election.

19. Voters intend to vote for West and Abdullah in the 2024 General Election.

20. Defendant Department is a Pennsylvania Executive Branch Agency under the leadership of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, see 71 P.S. § 273, vested with only such powers as are granted to it by statute.

21. Defendant Secretary is the Secretary of the Commonwealth who has certain enumerated responsibilities under the Election Code, including, inter alia, the power and duty “[t]o certify to county boards of elections for primaries and elections the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States,” 25 P.S. § 2621(c), and “[t]o receive and determine, as hereinafter provided, the sufficiency of nomination petitions, certificates and papers of candidates for President of the United States,” id. at § 2621(d).

IV. FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. Nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States under the Pennsylvania Election Code.

22. Generally, the Election Code provides for two avenues through which candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States may have their names printed on the general election ballot: (1) nomination by major political parties (25 P.S. §§ 2861-2883), or (2) nomination by political bodies (including “minor political parties”) (25 P.S. §§ 2911-2914).

23. To fully understand the constitutional violations caused by this regime, a brief discussion of both methods is necessary.

24. Under the Election Code, any party whose share of registered voters statewide is equal to or greater than fifteen percent and who had at least one candidate poll above a certain minimum threshold is deemed a “political party.” 25 P.S. §§ 2831(a),¹ 2872.2.

25. For decades, the Republican and Democratic parties have been the only parties that have met the criteria to enjoy “political party” status.

26. Each political party is entitled to choose its nominee for President and Vice-President of the United States at the party’s national convention.

27. Thereafter, the presidential candidate of each political party chooses a slate of presidential electors. See 25 P.S. § 2878.

28. Although the Election Code provides that a party’s presidential electors must be chosen within thirty days, failure to do so is in no way fatal to the candidacy of a political party’s presidential candidate, provided that the designation is made “as soon as may be possible after the expiration of thirty days.” Id.

29. Notably, this provision does not require presidential electors to submit affidavits or pay any fees; rather, all that is required is the presidential elector’s name and address. See id. (“The names of such nominees, with their residences and postoffice addresses, shall be certified immediately to the Secretary of the Commonwealth by the nominee for the office of President or Vice-President, as the case may be, making the nominations.”).

30. By contrast, a political party whose total share of statewide support is below the aforementioned threshold, or a political body, which is defined as an “an independent body of electors,” 25 P.S. § 2602, nominates its candidates for the general election—including candidates for President and Vice-President—by filing nomination papers pursuant to certain statutory requirements. See 25 P.S. §§ 2911-2914.

31. The “nomination of candidates for any public office may also be made by nomination papers signed by qualified electors of the State, or of the electoral district for which the nomination is made, and filed in the manner herein provided.” Id. at § 2911(a).

32. Nomination papers of presidential candidates must be signed by at least five thousand qualified electors, see id. at § 2911(b),² and be accompanied by “an affidavit of each candidate nominated therein[.]” with certain attestations, see id. at § 2911(e) (emphasis added).

33. In terms of eligibility, “[a]ny person who is a registered and enrolled member of a party during any period of time beginning with thirty (30) days before the primary and extending through the general . . . election of that same year shall be ineligible to be the candidate of a political body” in that year’s general election. Id. at § 2911.1.

34. Furthermore, “each candidate nominated by a nomination paper” must submit “[t]he same filing . . . as required in section 913 for the filing of nomination petitions by candidates for nomination to the same office.” Id. at § 2914.

B. The role of presidential electors

35. Presidential electors fulfill a role under the Election Code that is distinct from candidates for office.

36. Once designated, individual presidential electors for Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates—of both political parties and political bodies—remain largely unknown to the general public and have virtually no involvement in the political process until several weeks after the general election.

37. Presidential electors are not listed on the ballot or in election materials provided to voters by election officials.

38. For example, a sample 2020 election ballot for Beaver County, attached as Exhibit A, lists only candidates for President and Vice-President without listing presidential electors. And it instructs voters to “[v]ote for the candidates of one party for President and Vice-President or insert the names of candidates.” Id.

39. And none of the Election Code’s various public notice provisions require disclosure of the names of presidential electors.

40. Similarly, as a practical matter, it is exceedingly difficult for voters to ascertain the identities of the presidential electors.

41. To that end, the names of presidential electors do not appear on the Department’s “Candidate Database,” its “Unofficial List of Candidates,” or any other portion of the Department’s website.

42. Indeed, upon information and belief, the Department does not publicly disclose—except to specific individuals who requested such information—the identity of individual presidential electors prior to the election.

43. The Election Code details the role of presidential electors. Once the results of the presidential election have been determined, the individuals designated to act as electors by the winning presidential candidate “assemble at the seat of government of this Commonwealth [i.e., Harrisburg], at 12 o’clock noon of the day, which is, or may be, directed by the Congress of the United States, and shall then and there perform the duties enjoined upon them by the Constitution and laws of the United States.” 25 P.S. § 3192.

44. The Election Code further provides for the compensation of presidential electors and the procedure for filling any vacancies that occur. See id.; 25 P.S. § 3193.

45. With no mention of presidential electors in any other statute, the above provisions provide the extent of the powers and duties of presidential electors.

C. Defendants’ application of the Election Code to political bodies

46. The Department interprets these Election Code provisions for political bodies to gain ballot access.

47. That interpretation is provided on the Department’s website under a page titled “Third Party Nomination Paperwork.”³

48. Inexplicably, the Department contends that every individual designated as a presidential elector by a political body is a “candidate.”

49. Among other things, according to the Department, presidential electors must submit the candidate affidavit required under 25 P.S. § 2911. Specifically, the frequently asked questions portion of the Department’s website provides, in relevant part, the following:

Do presidential electors need to complete the Candidate’s affidavit?

Yes, minor political party and political body candidates for the office of presidential elector must file candidates’ affidavits by the August 1 deadline. 25 P.S. §§ 2911(e), 2913(a).

Id.

50. Upon information and belief, this is the first time Defendants have interpreted and enforced 25 P.S. § 2911 in this manner.

³ See <https://www.pa.gov/en/agencies/dos/programs/voting-and-elections/running-for-office/third-party-nomination-paperwork.html#accordion-21c3b2a9ea-item-f2eb7b4ba2> (last visited Sept. 16, 2024).

51. The Department has also taken the position that the disaffiliation requirements set forth in 25 P.S. § 2911 apply to presidential electors:

Do presidential electors submitting nomination papers need to have the same party affiliation as the candidate?

No, but any person who is a registered and enrolled member of the Democratic, Republican, or Libertarian party during any period of time beginning thirty (30) days before the primary and extending through the general or municipal election of that same year is ineligible to be a candidate for presidential elector of a political body in a general or municipal election held in that same year. 25 P.S. § 2911(e).

Id.

52. The Nomination Paper form created by the Department also requires candidates for President and Vice-President to list all nineteen presidential electors on each sheet.

53. Specifically, the Department's website provides:

A presidential candidate must nominate 19 individuals to serve as candidates for the office of presidential elector.

Id.

D. Candidates' submission of the Nomination Papers and Defendants' refusal to accept them.

54. The Department's foregoing interpretation and its disparate effect on Candidates and Voters became evident when nomination papers came due in August 2024.

55. On July 11, 2024, Candidates timely filed the West/Abdullah Nomination Papers with Defendants.

56. The West/Abullah Nomination Papers contained over 13,000 signatures, including those of Voters.

57. In addition, Candidates paid the relevant filing fee, and attached their respective candidate affidavits. See 25 P.S. § 2911(b)-(e); 25 P.S. § 2914.

58. On that day, Defendants issued to a campaign representative a notice that the Department did not receive a valid candidate affidavit.

59. On August 1, Defendants rejected the West/Abdullah Nomination Papers because they did not have candidate affidavits for all nineteen individual presidential electors.

60. The next day, Defendants emailed the rejection notice to Candidates' campaign.

61. Despite Candidates' disagreement with Defendants' interpretation of the Election Code, Candidates, their presidential electors, and others attempted to cure this alleged infirmity.

62. But Defendants steadfastly refused to accept the West/Abdullah Nomination Papers based on their interpretation of the Election Code as requiring every single presidential elector for a political body presidential candidate to submit a candidate affidavit.

63. Certain presidential electors and substitute presidential electors for Candidates filed a mandamus and declaratory relief action with the Commonwealth Court under the Court's original jurisdiction. These electors and substitute electors sought a writ of mandamus compelling the Department and Secretary to accept the West/Abdullah Nomination Papers in accordance with their statutory obligations. Alternatively, the electors and substitute electors sought a declaration that the Department's interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 was contrary to the Election Code, the Pennsylvania Constitution, and the United States Constitution. See Williams v. Pa. Dep't of State, No. 394 MD 2024 (Pa. Cmwlt.).

64. The Commonwealth Court dismissed the action filed by Candidates' presidential electors, primarily based on laches, and the Pennsylvania Supreme Court affirmed by a per curiam order. See Williams v. Pa. Dep't of State, 2024 WL 3912684 (Pa. Cmwlt., No. 394 M.D. 2024, filed Aug. 23, 2024), aff'd, 2024 WL 4195131 (Pa., No. 25 WAP 2024, filed Sept. 16, 2024).

65. Candidates sought leave to intervene while Williams was pending before the Supreme Court, and that request for intervention was denied.

66. Candidates are not the only political body candidates for President and Vice-President who have had their nomination papers rejected or challenged because of Defendants' interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911. See Clymer v. Schmidt, 2024 WL 3912661 (Pa. Cmwlt., No. 376 M.D. 2024, filed Aug. 23, 2024), aff'd, 2024 WL 4181585 (Pa., No. 67 MAP 2024, filed Sept. 13, 2024); In re: Nomination Papers of Claudia De la Cruz, No. 2024 WL 3982157 (Pa. Cmwlt., No. 379 M.D. 2024, filed Aug. 20, 2024), aff'd, 2024 WL 4181581 (Pa., No. 56 EAP 2024, filed Sept. 13, 2024).

67. Defendants' interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 treats Candidates and Voters differently than candidates of political parties and voters for political parties.

68. Without advancing any state interest, Defendants' interpretation imposes a severe burden on Plaintiffs' constitutional interests that they would not face if they were not candidates of and voters for a political body rather than a political party.

69. With these recent decisions from the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, counties are finalizing ballots for the general election. Importantly, voters are not able to cast mail ballots yet and ballots may not start being distributed until October.⁴ Currently, only 62 of 67 Pennsylvania counties have ballots available.⁵

70. The 2024 General Election is less than two months away. Candidates and Voters will suffer immediate and irreparable harm if Defendants' unconstitutional interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911, as explained below, is not enjoined.

COUNT I
42 U.S.C. § 1983 – Violation of First Amendment Right to Freedom of Association

71. Plaintiffs incorporate the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

72. The First Amendment to the United States Constitution protects the freedom of speech and association. U.S. Const. amend. I.

73. Plaintiffs have a fundamental right to political association protected by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, which includes the right of individuals to associate for the advancement of political beliefs.

⁴ See <https://apnews.com/article/pennsylvania-early-voting-september-16-mail-ballots-edbcfb03d28a2bfdadd70ba6bbe28a3b> (last visited Sept. 23, 2024).

⁵ See <https://www.pa.gov/en/agencies/vote/voter-support/ballot-availability.html> (last visited Sept. 23, 2024)

74. Under the First and Fourteenth Amendments, this Court balances the character and magnitude of the injury to the constitutional right against “the precise interests put forward by the State as justifications for the burden imposed by its rule, taking into consideration the extent to which those interests make it necessary to burden the plaintiff[s]’ rights.” Burdick v. Takushi, 504 U.S. 428, 434 (1992); Anderson, 460 U.S. at 789. Where the burden on the right is severe, strict scrutiny applies, meaning that it cannot pass constitutional muster unless it is narrowly tailored to advance a compelling state interest. See Donald J. Trump for President, Inc. v. Boockvar, 493 F. Supp. 3d 331, 384 (W.D. Pa. 2020).

75. Indeed, “[a] burden that falls unequally on new or small political parties or on independent candidates impinges, by its very nature, on associational choices protected by the First Amendment,” by discriminating against both candidates and voters whose political preferences lie outside the existing political parties. Anderson, 460 U.S. at 794.

76. Further, restricting a political body’s access to the ballot infringes citizens’ fundamental rights of association and speech protected by the First and Fourteenth Amendments.” Green Party of Pa. v. Aichele, 89 F. Supp. 3d 723, 738 (E.D. Pa. 2015).

77. Defendants’ interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 described above is intended to and does restrict Candidates’ access to the ballot.

78. Defendants' interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 also unduly restricts Voters' right to cast their votes effectively by impinging on their associational rights simply because their political preferences fall outside the existing political parties.

79. Defendants cannot proffer any state interest, let alone a compelling state interest for this distinction and, therefore, Defendants' interpretation unduly burdens Plaintiffs' First Amendment rights.

80. Defendants' interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 significantly encroaches on Plaintiffs' associational freedom. Accordingly, Plaintiffs are entitled to a judgment declaring Defendants' interpretation to be in violation of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.

COUNT II
42 U.S.C. § 1983 – Equal Protection Violation

81. Plaintiffs incorporate the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

82. The Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution ensures that no state shall deny to any person equal protection of the laws. U.S. Const. amend. XIV.

83. Again, under the First and Fourteenth Amendments, this Court balances the character and magnitude of the injury to the constitutional right against “the precise interests put forward by the State as justifications for the burden imposed by its rule, taking into consideration the extent to which those interests make it necessary to burden the plaintiff[s] rights.” Burdick, 504 U.S. at 434 (1992); Anderson, 460 U.S. at 789. If it is a severe burden on the right, strict scrutiny applies and the rule must be narrowly tailored and advance a compelling interest. See Donald J. Trump for President, Inc, 493 F. Supp. 3d at 384.

84. Defendants' interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 unequally and unfairly discriminates against political body voters and candidates without a compelling state interest.

85. Political parties are not required to submit a slate of presidential electors until thirty days after the parties have nominated their candidate for president. 25 P.S. § 2878. And they are not required to submit candidate affidavits for every single presidential elector. See id.

86. In fact, a political party's failure to submit the names of presidential electors within the allotted time does not affect that party candidate's right to appear on the ballot. See id.

87. Presidential electors may move from the jurisdiction or change their intent to serve as presidential electors before or after Nomination Papers are due. But the will of the 13,000+ registered voters who signed the West/Abdullah Nomination Papers should not be thwarted because the presidential electors cannot timely complete a discriminatory candidate-affidavit requirement.

88. Defendants' interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911, that every one of Candidates' presidential electors must complete a candidate affidavit, is a substantial burden not supported by any state interest (or by the statute itself).

89. Presidential electors are not candidates for public office within the Election Code or under any common sense understanding of the term. Voters do not vote for presidential electors individually, and presidential electors do not appear on the ballot. See supra ¶¶ 35–45.

90. Instead, presidential electors fulfill a limited role as dictated by statute to appear in Harrisburg at the appointed time and carry out their constitutional duty. See supra ¶¶ 43-45; see also 25 P.S. § 3192.

91. There is no basis for this discriminatory interpretation of the Election Code and, even if there was, there is no discernable state interest to treat Candidates and Voters from a political body differently than political parties.

92. As such, Defendants’ interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 violates Plaintiffs’ right to equal protection of the laws, is arbitrary and capricious, serves no compelling state interest, and is unconstitutional on its face and as applied.

93. Defendants’ interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911 unfairly discriminates against Candidates as candidates of political bodies and Voters as voters for political body candidates. Plaintiffs are entitled to a judgment declaring Defendants’ interpretation 25 P.S. § 2911 to violate the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court render a judgment in their favor and grant the following relief:

- (1) Declare that Defendants’ interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911—that requires Candidates’ and other political body candidates’ presidential electors to submit candidate affidavits with Nomination Papers—violates the First Amendment and the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution;

- (2) Enjoin Defendants preliminarily and permanently from enforcing their interpretation of 25 P.S. § 2911;
- (3) Compel Defendants to accept the West/Abdullah Nomination Papers and certify West and Abdullah's names as candidates for President and Vice-President, respectively;
- (4) Award Plaintiffs the cost of prosecuting this action together with attorneys' fees under 42 U.S.C. § 1988; and
- (5) Grant such further relief as this Court deems just and proper under the circumstances.

Respectfully submitted,
